Disaster Relief

In case of a disaster, there are American Legion programs available to assist you during your time of recovery.

If members are in need of continuing housing after a disaster because of damages sustained to their homes and the home is not available to be occupied, they should go to www.disasterassistance.gov or the local FEMA Disaster Center for FEMA Transitional Sheltering Assistance.

If member is unable to get FEMA or other government-provided temporary housing, members may apply for an individual NEF grant or TFA within the restrictions established for each fund.
